

The IGU Commission International Conference

Ecological Industrialization and Comprehensive Rural Revitalization

(2nd Announcement)

1. Background

Ecological Industrialization is an important part of the high-quality development of modern agriculture and rural revitalization. Thriving industries are the contents, livable ecology is the key and prosperous life is the base on ongoing process. Rural areas are a huge green ecological system, an important agricultural production system, and a unique social-cultural system. Implementing the strategy of ecological industrialization and rural revitalization can satisfy people's growing demand for ecological products services and optimize rural industrial structures, which will create new green momentum and sharing new opportunities for sustainable land use and rural development. The aim of the conference is to further facilitate the exchange of knowledge between academic scientists, researchers and practitioners to increase collaboration while presenting and discussing different ideas, challenges and potential solution on established or emerging topics related to research and practice in rural development science, achieving Chinese modernization and the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Very warmly welcome to attend this international conference.
